

Gordon recognized in police line-up

ANIBAL Gordon was recognized in a police line-up of suspected criminals as the leader of a group which kidnapped two Uruguayan women who were later held in a clandestine detention centre located in the Floresta neighbourhood, court sources reported yesterday. Sara Rita Méndez and Ana Inés Quadros reportedly identified Gordon in the investigation being made by Trial Judge Alicia Baumgartner, of the alleged illegal detention of 20 Uruguayans at the Floresta centre. Gordon, the alleged leader of the rightwing "Triple-A" terrorist group, was reportedly later taken at his request to Federal Judge José Dibur in order to make important new statements in the Triple-A investigation. (DYN)